

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 62-71 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to independent claims 62 and 67, the prior art found does not specifically teach "loading, on the client device and in response to displaying the first application page, a first invisible page in the browser, wherein the first invisible page is not visible to a user of the client device such that the first application page remains visible in the browser during and after loading the first invisible page; loading, on the client device and in response to loading the first invisible page, a second invisible page in the browser, wherein the second invisible page is not visible to the user of the client device such that the first application page remains visible in the browser during and after loading the first and second invisible pages, and wherein the browser registers the loading of the second invisible page in a history as a navigation from the first invisible page to the second invisible page," in combination with all of the other claim limitations.

All dependent claims are allowable by virtue of their dependence on allowable independent claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
